WHAT TO EXPECT

The Deschutes River Scenic Waterway offers spectacular basalt cliffs, bighorn sheep, wild trout and steelhead fishing, vibrant night skies and, of course, spectacular rapids.

The Deschutes is one of Oregon's most popular rivers because it's accessible to beginners, families and experienced boaters alike. You don't need previous rafting experience to fully enjoy this classic Oregon river trip. Our experienced guides will teach you the basic skills and paddle strokes needed to have a safe and fun trip.

DAILY ROUTINE

A typical day on the water includes five to eight hours of rafting, a lunch break, swimming breaks and wildlife viewing. Evenings are a great time to go hiking, toss the Frisbee, read a book, take a nap or relax by the water. Keep in mind that every trip is different, as the weather, water flow, campsites and group dynamics all influence the trip pace and itinerary.

GUIDES

Our guides are accomplished in outdoor skills, trained in first aid, CPR and river rescue, and knowledgeable about the natural and cultural history of the area. They are fun, interesting people who have a passion for rivers and people. If you have questions about rafting, camping, cooking in the outdoors or anything else, ask and they will likely be happy to help.

MEALS

All meals are prepped by our guides and include a wide variety of fresh meats, cheeses, grains, fruits and vegetables. We provide plenty of snacks and water throughout the trip. Please let us know within two weeks of your trip if you have special dietary needs. We will do our best to accommodate you.

WEATHER

Many people joke that in Eastern Oregon, "If you don't like the weather, wait 10 minutes." The weather changes often and sometimes dramatically. During the summertime, the weather in Eastern Oregon is very warm and mostly dry. However, you must be prepared for rain and wind in every season. Below is a chart of average temperatures and rainfall in Eastern Oregon during the rafting season.

	May	June	July	Aug	Sept
Avg Temp Day	70°F	77°F	86°F	87°F	82°F
Avg Temp Night	46°F	53°F	59°F	55°F	50°F
Rainfall	1"	.75"	.5"	.15"	.25"

Prior to packing for your trip, we recommend that you check the forecast at: riverdrifters.net/deschutes.

SANITATION

There are many campsites along the Deschutes with developed toilet facilities. All rafts are required to carry an approved portable toilet, which serves as a back-up when developed toilets are not available. We practice Leave No Trace ethics (Int.org), meaning we pack out all trash and use only biodegradable soap for washing dishes. If you have any questions about personal sanitation, please don't hesitate to ask your guide.

FISHING

The Deschutes River is well known among anglers for its wild trout and steelhead. Regulations allow fishing only from riverbanks or while wading in the water. For trout, the season is year round on the Lower Deschutes. If you'd like to bring your fishing rod and give it a go, please purchase a fishing license prior to arriving at the River Drifters office. For more information about fishing on the Deschutes, see deschutesangler.com.

USE THE LAYERING SYSTEM

Loose, quick-drying, durable clothing is ideal for river trips. Bring clothes that can be worn under or on top of other clothes (i.e., can be layered).

Base Layer – Long underwear (tops and bottoms) made of either wool or synthetic materials such as polyester wick moisture away from the skin and are quick to dry. Long underwear is an essential first layer for both the river and camp.

Middle Layer – Fleece, which is also made of synthetic materials, or a heavyweight wool shirt or sweater both made an excellent middle layer in wet and/or cool weather. Both are great insulators and are quick to dry.

Outer Layer – We recommend that guests bring a rain jacket and pants, even if there is absolutely no rain being forecasted. That's because rain gear makes a great windbreaker and insulator in cooler weather and at night. Coated nylon or breathable fabrics (like Gore-Tex) are best. We will provide you with a splash jacket for on-river protection from wind and cold water.

WETSUITS

Wetsuits are recommended for spring and fall trips, and for people interested in spending time in inflatable kayaks. River Drifters provides guest with 2.3 mil "farmer John" style wetsuits, which can be combined with a splash jacket to provide full-body coverage. If you are a cold person, you can choose to wear synthetic or wool long underwear underneath your wetsuit.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Can I bring alcohol?

River Drifters does not furnish, sell or give away alcohol of any kind during our trips. If desired, you may bring your own alcohol in non-glass containers and we will transport it to camp for you. Please drink in moderation. We reserve the right to.... Note, we do not allow alcohol on any youth trips.

Is tipping appropriate?

Our guides work very hard throughout the season to ensure that guests have a safe and enjoyable trip. As such, tips are very much appreciated by our guides. Tips normally range from 10% of the trip cost. How much you tip should depend on your satisfaction with your trip and your financial means. Most people tip the lead guide, who will split the money equally among the crew.

Is this trip appropriate for kids?

A Deschutes River multi-day trip is perfect for the whole family. We allow kids as young as four years old to join Deschutes multi-day day trips. A child's maturity level would be a greater factor than their age. Please call us to discuss your situation.

COTTON

Cotton should NOT be worn on the river during wet or cooler weather because it's slow to dry and will lower your body temperature. There is a wide range of affordable shirts and pants made of synthetic materials. We recommend you avoid cotton.

FOOTWEAR

We recommend that guests bring an old pair of tennis shoes, neoprene booties with soles or sandals (Teva or Chaco-type are recommended) for use on the river. Closed-toed shoes offer the most foot protection while on the river, and can be worn with wool or neoprene socks to provide warmth. You'll also want a second pair of comfortable shoes to wear around camp.

DRY BAGS

When you arrive at the River Drifters office on the morning of your trip, you will receive a dry bag for all personal items. When fully packed, the dry bag measures about 16 inches in diameter by 33 inches in height (roughly the size of a garbage bag). ALL of your personal items, including your sleeping bag and pad, must fit inside this one dry bag. Separate dry bags can be used for tents.

Dry bags will NOT be accessible during the day, so we recommend that you bring a personal waterproof day pack for items such as sunscreen, rain gear, cameras, snacks and a warm layer.
